Brains and Color.

Hottentots are not such fools as many persons with whiter skins and a thousand more advantages. At a Rat River tempe runce meeting, in the Hottentot country Hans Jose, in reply to the question what brandy had done for him, made the following speech :

" What have I got by brandy ? I have got this, (pointing to a baid spot on his head) Every person should confess hitoults, and I tell you I have lost part of my head through the brandy; I was riding on a horse drunk, and fell on a stone. When I got up I saw a great deal of hair and piece of my head upon the stone. When you drink brandy, it makes you think of everything that is bad; it makes you wish for things that do not belong to you; and after you have drunk it. it makes you thirsty again."

The sensible conclusion from these facts was, that as brandy was unneccessary, he would not use it again There are a great many lighter faced folks than Hans Jose who appear to be much thicker
